Professional Summary

My name is Noble Ekuma. I, am a creative, constantly seeking new ways to do things in every medium I find myself in. My goal going forward is to come to Warner Music as an intern and find different ways of advancing their artists whether through visuals, or audio, or through playlists, tik-toks, and any other resource made available to me. I work hard, but I love what I do so its never work, just an unexplainable sense of fulfillment.

Employment history

Creative Director, Self-Employed (Onyi & Friends). San Marcos, Texas

Oct. 2020 – Present

I created a brand called "Onyi & Friends" and through it I create artist opportunities around the San Marcos area open to artists in the San Marcos, San Antonio, and Austin areas. During the week before Christmas I had an event called "How the Grinch Found Christmas". It was a live singing/storytelling event that took place on campus. This January I have another event called "Onyi & Friends : A "Tiny Desk" Show", it will be in the same vein of NPR's Tiny Desks, It will be showcasing 12 artists of genres ranging from Psych Blues Rock and Acoustic Soul to Rap and R&B in San Marcos, Austin, and San Antonio. Also as of right now me and a friend are planning on having an all black runway show in March also showcasing artists (clothing of course) in those 3 previously mentioned areas.
